

Homes for All Animals

The BC SPCA works hard to ensure all pets in British Columbia have a happy forever home. Each year we help find homes for over 29,000 surrendered or abandoned animals across the province, but finding them a perfect forever family can take time!

Help these animals find the right home for them by making colourful, eye-catching adoption posters that help them really stand out to potential adopters. You can even send them to the BC SPCA branch for display.

Materials: Pencil, markers or pencil crayons, Adoption poster template

Directions:

1

Look up animals available for adoption at your local BC SPCA at www.sPCA.bc.ca/adopt.

2

Choose one of the animals available for adoption and fill out the adoption poster template found on page 2 with their name, animal type, and any information you can find about their personality or likes.

3

Draw a picture of your chosen animal in the space provided. Don't forget to look at their pictures on the website for inspiration.

4

Once your poster is finished, contact your local BC SPCA branch to find the best way to get your poster to them so it can be shared with potential adopters.

Feeling artistic?

Try drawing the adoptable pet doing one of its favourite things, like playing with toys or chowing down on tasty treats!

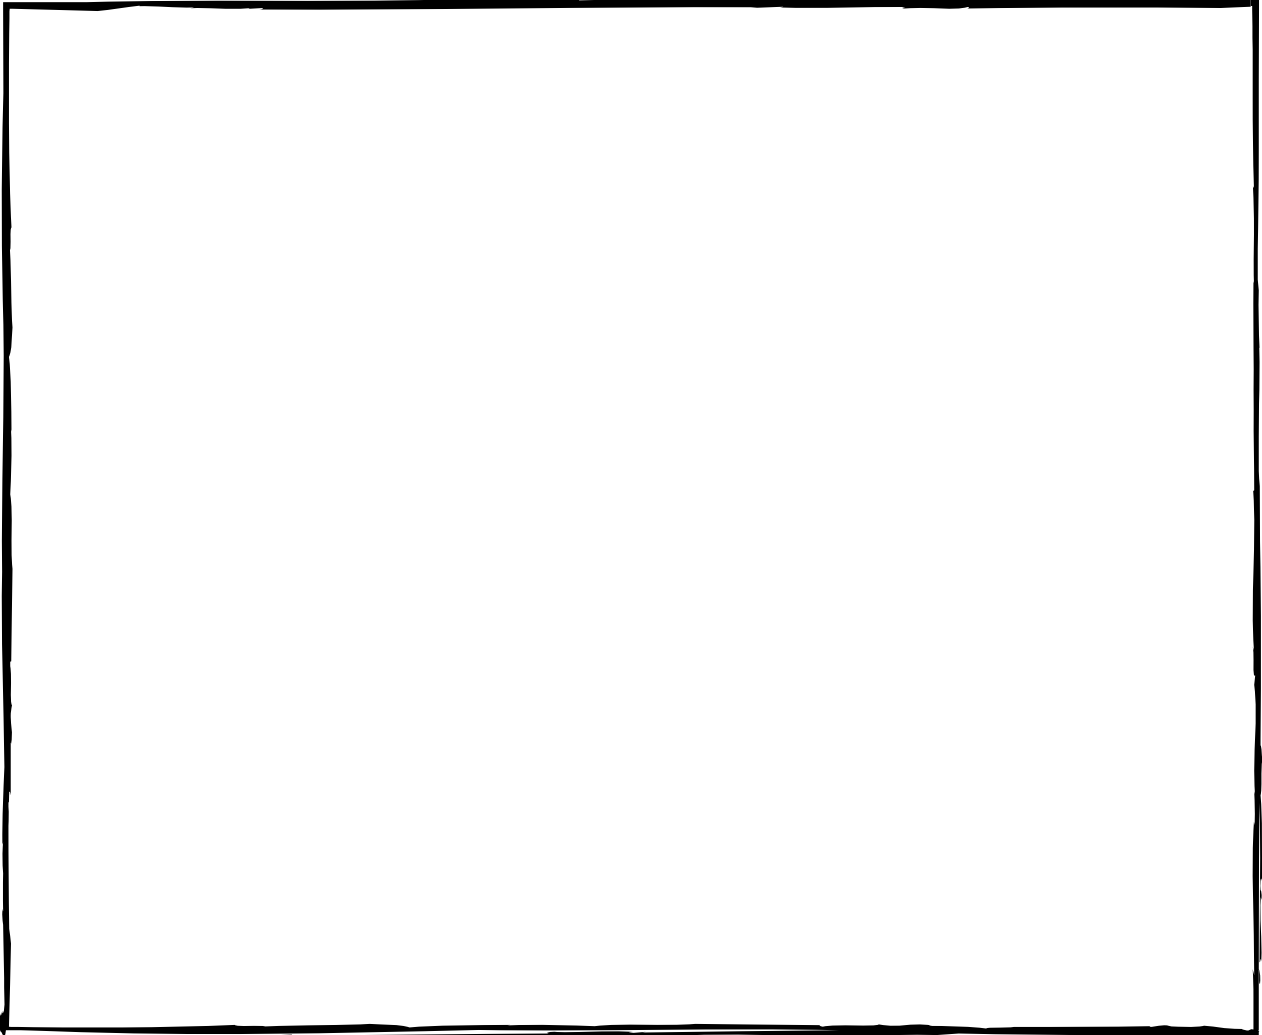

Additional Resources

By:

Age:

Adopt Me!

I'm waiting for a new home at the BC SPCA

My name is_____. I am a_____.

I am_____ years old. Let me tell you a bit about myself:
